READ WITH YOUR CHILD! 😊 😊

When you hold your baby close and look at a book together, your baby will hear your voice as you tell the story. If the baby isn't enjoying it right then, stop and try later.

Choose baby-friendly books with bright pictures, books made of cloth or “board books” with sturdy cardboard pages that are easy to hold.

Keep books at hand for baby to play with just like toys.

Make reading a part of your daily care routine with your children. It is soothing and fun for babies and toddlers.

Revised Feb. 2020

Allow for repetition, over and over again, with both stories and songs. Children learn language from repeating things over and over again.

Your community libraries are great resources for books and much more, including story hours!

Visit <http://fvrl.org/grow-reader> for more tips, suggestions, and resources!
